

1. Sarah "The Cheese Lady" Kaufmann sculpts Neil Armstrong's space helmet, of 100% Wisconsin Cheddar, Friday afternoon at Kroger in St. Marys. When completed, on Sunday, the six-foot cheddar sculpture will weigh more than 1800 pounds and will be displayed at

2. Sarah "The Cheese Lady" Kaufmann looks over her mock-ups before continuing to sculpt Neil Armstrong, out of 100% Wisconsin Cheddar, Friday afternoon at Kroger in St. Marys. When completed, on Sunday, the six-foot cheddar sculpture will weigh more than 180

3. Sarah "The Cheese Lady" Kaufmann adjusts the top block of cheese, of 100% Wisconsin Cheddar, after it was placed onto two other 640 pound blocks Friday afternoon at Kroger in St. Marys. When completed, on Sunday, the six-foot cheddar sculpture will weigh

4. Sarah "The Cheese Lady" Kaufmann poses with her husband Bill Parry in with her Neil Armstrong's space cheese sculpture, of 100% Wisconsin Cheddar, Friday afternoon at Kroger in St. Marys. When completed, on Sunday, the six-foot cheddar sculpture will wei

5. A forklift is required to move two 640-pound blocks of Wisconsin Cheddar that Sarah "The Cheese Lady" Kauffman will sculpt into Neil Armstrong Friday afternoon at Kroger in St. Marys. When completed, on Sunday, the six-foot cheddar sculpture will weigh mo

6. Kroger associates help move the top block of Wisconsin Cheddar off a forklift and onto two other blocks Friday afternoon at Kroger in St. Marys. When completed, on Sunday, the six-foot cheddar sculpture will weigh more than 1800 pounds and resemble Neil A

7. Sarah "The Cheese Lady" Kaufmann holds up photos of a scale model of the Neil Armstrong, made out of 100% Wisconsin Cheddar, Friday afternoon at Kroger in St. Marys. When completed, on Sunday, the six-foot cheddar sculpture will weigh more than 1800 pound

8. Sarah "The Cheese Lady" Kaufmann sculpts Neil Armstrong's space helmet, of 100% Wisconsin Cheddar, Friday afternoon at Kroger in St. Marys. When completed, on Sunday, the six-foot cheddar sculpture will weigh more than 1800 pounds and will be displayed at

9. Sarah "The Cheese Lady" Kaufmann sculpts Neil Armstrong's space helmet, of 100% Wisconsin Cheddar, Friday afternoon at Kroger in St. Marys. When completed, on Sunday, the six-foot cheddar sculpture will weigh more than 1800 pounds and will be displayed at

10. The top block of Wisconsin Cheddar gets moved on a forklift and onto two other blocks Friday afternoon at Kroger in St. Marys. When completed, on Sunday, the six-foot cheddar sculpture will weigh more than 1800 pounds and resemble Neil Armstrong's first s

11. Sarah "The Cheese Lady" Kaufmann holds the ceramic sculpting tools she is using to sculpt Neil Armstrong out of 100% Wisconsin Cheddar, Friday afternoon at Kroger in St. Marys. When completed, on Sunday, the six-foot cheddar sculpture will weigh more than